

also a moveable Rasi) is where we experience our changeable emotions.

The wellbeing of all the organs and body parts located in the breast area are all dependent upon Cancer. This includes the heart, lower lungs, sternum, breasts, diaphragm, the middle four thoracic vertebrae and the ribs surrounding the heart.

LEO – CAVITY

The abdominal cavity is where the majority of the vital organs are located – the stomach, liver, kidneys, spleen and gall bladder, along with two important glands that have an important role in our energy levels – the pancreas and adrenals. On account of ruling more vital energizing organs than any other Rasi, Leo is the sign of vitality and, by extension, the personality strength of self-esteem and confidence.

Leo also contains the ribs below the sternum and the last four thoracic vertebrae.

VIRGO – HIPS

Virgo represents the hip area, which is the area from the top of the hipbone down to the insertion point of the femur. This area includes the girdle area where the intestines are located. The intestines are primarily responsible for assimilation of what is useful to the body while leaving that which is not useble – a very developed trait of Virgo. This trait is often seen in relationships of those with healthy Virgo qualaites – they are able to enjoy the good qualaties of a person, while not involving themselves with any undesireable qualaties which that person may possess. They simply leave the undesirable qualaties to sort themselves out as they may. This quality makes Virgo one of the best of friends and one of the reasons that Mercury, which rules friends, is exalted in Virgo.

Seventy percent of diseases have their source in the large intestine, thus Virgo is the Rasi of disease and afflicted planets in Virgo quickly become disordered.
